

Janet L. Bobechko

Ms Bobechko is a partner at Blaney McMurtry LLP. Janet is a Certified Specialist in Environmental Law by the Law Society of Upper Canada and was on the Canadian Brownfield Network-Advisory Panel since its inception to 2009. Janet has both a Canadian and an American law degree and she also studied international law in London, England. She is a recommended practitioner in Environmental Law in the Canadian Legal Lexpert Directory and also has a BV rating<sup>1</sup> in Martindale-Hubbe Law Directory in environmental law for legal ability and general ethical standards.

Ms Bobechko's practice deals exclusively with all aspects of environmental law with an emphasis on environmental compliance issues arising from federal, provincial and municipal regulatory regimes. A substantial part of her practice involves advising clients in relation to risk management measures for legacy contaminated sites and Brownfield development. She advises clients on corporate, commercial and real estate business transactions, financings and insolvencies including advice on minimization of environmental liabilities for corporations, officers and directors and negotiation of environmental indemnities. She is a frequent speaker at business and legal conferences on all environmental matters.

Vice-Chair of the Ontario Bar Association Environmental Section. Board of Directors and contributor, Environmental Law Journal, published by Federated Press. Janet is a member of the Ontario Bar Association, Environmental Law Section, Canadian Bar Association, National Environmental, Energy and Resource Law Section, Law Society of Upper Canada, Air & Waste Management Association, the American Bar Association, Environmental, Energy and Resources section and the Ontario Environmental Industry Association where she is a co-chair of the Brownfield Sub-Committee.
